OUTLINES.

Five persons were killed and several severely injured by an explosion in a Chicago building yesterday——Norman E. Mack, of New York State, a member of the convention committee, arrived in Denver yesterday carrying with him a boom for Lieutenant Governor Chanler for the nomination for Vice President——The program for the Cleveland funeral has been announced. It will occur at 5 o'clock this afternoon and will be as simple as it can possibly be made——Chairman Lloyd, chairman of the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee, goes to New York today for the purpose of raising campaign funds. He says the committee is much in need of the necessary funds now because of the unusually early opening of the campaign——The Government at Washington yesterday telegraphed to every point in the world where the American flag flies that the National colors be flown at half mast for thirty days and that during the day there be half-hour guns fired at all army and naval stations during the day from sunrise to sunset——Our Government now has 1,250 marines in the canal zone to preserve order during the approaching election——The body of a young woman of Philadelphia is found with a stab wound in the heart. A former suitor is arrested and confesses to the murder——While our Government has broken diplomatic relations with Venezuela, it is said that no further trouble is feared, though there are quite a number of our war vessels at points convenient for immediate service should their services be needed——In the Yale-Harvard 'varsity annual boat race yesterday the latter won, the stroke of the Yale crew having suffered a complete collapse just as the home stretch was entered and his crew gave up the race, Harvard winning by half a mile——National Chairman Taggart says Bryan will be nominated on the first ballot and that the Vice Presidential candidate will be John W. Kern, of Indiana.——New York markets: Spot cotton steady, 10 points lower, middling uplands 11.70, middling gulf 11.95. Money on call easy 1 1-4 to 1 1-2 per cent, ruling rate 1 1-4, offered at 1 1-2, time loans steady. Flour quiet and steady. Wheat easy, No. 2 red 97 1-2 elevator, options 3-8 to 3-4 lower. Corn steady, No. 2, 78 nominal elevator, options 5-8 to 3-4c lower. Oats steady, mixed 54 to 55. Rosin quiet. Turpentine quiet.

Don't you reckon some of the doctors and drug stores in Charlotte are doing a big business on prescriptions about now?

The Durham Herald editor is a philosopher politically. He says he may not be satisfied with what the convention will do, but he will accept its conclusions.

What a big advertiser for the Commoner this Presidential campaign with Mr. Bryan as the Democratic nominee will be.

If Mr. Cannon can't be President he can hold on to an office which gives him as much power and more of an arbitrary kind.

Now that Mr. Cleveland is dead his enemies in the Democratic party are willing to admit that he did posses some good characteristics.

Apparently the Craig and the Horne men were coquetting with each other yesterday, while the Kitchin men were standing firm.

Wonder if Mr. Hearst has gotten too far away from the Democratic party to attempt to make a dicker with the men who will have management of the convention in hand?

The Baltimore Sun says Mr. Bryan is willing to accept either Judge Gray or Governor Johnson as his running mate. Those gentlemen will have something to say about it however.

Some people are already beginning to ask what would the Republicans do were Mr. Sherman to die. The question is a useless one for that gentleman does not intend to do so just now.

Things political seemed so mixed and so uncertain yesterday that it was impossible in this city to get up a bet of a five-cent bag of peanuts as to who would be nominated for Governor.

While Mr. Cleveland's funeral today will be as quiet and unostentatious as it can possibly be made it will be an imposing one on account of the large assemblage of the most prominent men of the country to pay respect to the memory of that truly great man.

FOURTEEN BALLOTS TAKEN

Kitchin Men Fought Adjournment This Morning Without Avail—The "Dark Horse" Idea to the Fore—Notes.

(By Associated Press.)

Charlotte, N. C., June 26.—After a session of twenty hours, an almost continuous performance, the Democratic State Convention is no nearer a conclusion on the gubernatorial contest than when it convened Wednesday at 10 o'clock.

After having taken 14 ballots without material change the convention adjourned at 2 o'clock this morning to meet again at 10 o'clock today. The adjournment followed the 14th ballot and another heated wrangle, the Kitchin men stubbornly fighting the proposition to adjourn. The balloting was but slightly changed during the night, though Kitchin gained a few more votes.

The result of the fourteenth ballot was: Kitchin 382.325; Craig 321.615, and Horne 153.08. Necessary to choice 429

Congressman W. W. Kitchin, who came to the convention with a lead of 33 votes over Locke Craig, of Buncombe county, has increased this lead to 46 votes, while Colonel Ashley Horne, of Johnson county, has gained some strength and is stubbornly holding his own.

Fourteen ballots had been taken at midnight with no prospect of a break in the deadlock. An effort to introduce a dark horse early in the night was quickly squelched. The delegates are becoming weary but are receiving encouraging messages from home, urging them to stick to their respective candidates all Summer, if necessary. The session during the night was somewhat less turbulent, though there have been several violent demonstrations for the leading candidates. The balloting has been going along smoother and quicker but with no material change save for the gain of a few votes by Kitchin.

The Day's Sessions.

Charlotte, N. C., June 25.—It is 8 o'clock and nothing has been accomplished by the State convention except to cast half a dozen ballots which have not materially changed since last midnight when the balloting began. However, this morning about 7 A. M., there was a wild demonstration by the delegates in the auditorium and of the leaders such as has not been seen here in years. The rough affair that was witnessed outdid anything taking place here in more years than the oldest inhabitant could in all probability recall.

In the convention hall at the auditorium from 6:30 to 7 o'clock, following an all night session, when a motion was made to adjourn, a row was precipitated in which half the leading men of both sides participated. There were no blows struck but men used some unquestionably spicy conversation to one another—Kitchin men and Craig men—that was not calculated to cool the blood of either and while dozens crowded about the center of the discussion and tried to catch a word of what was being said, the hundreds of delegates out in the auditorium started up a din from time to time that made the early morning hours reverberate with sounds like the shrieks of a crowd about to make a charge in a battle or enter into some frightful contest in which everything was at stake.

About 4 A. M., Mr. E. F. Aydlett, of Pasquotank, arose when the vote of Tyrell county was called on the third ballot to challenge the vote of Tyrell which was cast as a unit for Kitchin, thus precipitating the first raid of the convention. The first ballot resulted:

The second ballot gave Kitchin three votes and when on third ballot the total vote was about to be again delivered, Mr. Aydlett made the challenge. The point of order was raised by the Kitchinites and was overruled by the chairman. The debate then began, Mr. Cameron Morrison holding up the Craig contention and Mr. Walter Daniel, the Kitchin side. After the argument had been prolonged for nearly an hour Chairman Parsons sustained the challenge, giving Craig 1.08 and Kitchin 1.92, but when Tyrrell was called the representative refused to cast any but the Kitchin vote.

The chairman ordered the vote recorded. Then the leaders of the Craig and Horne factions gathered about the chair on the platform and the debate was started over the issue. The point was made by the Kitchin men that the vote was out of order as stated elsewhere and then came the warmest, most heated and impassioned statements from a score of men on the platform representing both sides of the question at stake and for half an hour the wordy battle surged about the stage, the chair having to reply to half a dozen men at one time occasionally while the supporters and

JURY UNABLE TO AGREE

Out All Night in Case of Sam Glover, Charged With Murder—Another Capital Felony This Morning.

After being out since yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock, the jury which has in its hands the life or death of Sam Glover, colored, charged with the murder of another negro, Albert Jones, in Love's alley, last September, is still out and is apparently unable to reach a verdict in the Superior Court.

The testimony in the case was completed yesterday morning at 11 o'clock with the introduction of Messrs. W. B. Brown, Cleveland Carr and one or two other witnesses for the State, after which the defendant himself and two other witnesses testified in his behalf. Then followed the argument to the jury, F. W. Bonitz, Esq., opening for the State, followed by Jos. W. Little, Esq., for the defendant; L. Clayton Grant, Esq., also for the prisoner, and Solicitor Duffy for the State. The arguments were strong and at times eloquent, the attorneys defending the prisoner placing their client in the strongest possible light before the jury.

The charge of Judge Peebles was completed at 2 o'clock and was regarded as eminently fair to both sides. At the request of the attorneys for the defense he charged in substance that if the jury should find that when the prisoner met the deceased in the street before the prisoner's home, the deceased exclaimed "I come here for satisfaction," and thereupon threw his hand into his coat pocket, which act excited in the mind of the defendant a reasonable apprehention that his life was in danger, then they should say not guilty. Self defence was urged all through by the attorneys.

The jury retired promptly with the charge and had dinner and supper at the Colonial Inn, returning to the Court House where they are being made comfortable for the night. The evidence in the case was taken in shorthand by Mr. Meares Harriss, court stenographer, and at the request of the jury a copy of this will be furnished them this morning by Judge Peebles upon the convening of court. All was dark in the Court House at an early hour this morning and members of the jury were evidently enjoying a rest.

This morning the court will begin the trial of Robert Bolton and Tom Wells, charged with criminal assault upon a colored woman, a special venire of 100 having been summoned from which to select a jury. A large number of cases were called yesterday and judment nisi sci fa and capias ordered as follows: B. E. Leard, larceny; Geo. Pigford, larceny; Dave Bowden, carrying concealed weapon; John Brown, carrying concealed weapon; Henry Gause, cruelty to animals.

THE LAUNCH ACCIDENT.

A correspondent at Fort Caswell sends the Star additional particulars of the explosion on board the Government launch Lillian. The passengers were First Sergeant Payne, Sergeant Green, First Lieutenant Gilmer, Pilot Rogers, Private Slate Barnhill, Sergeant Wilson, Sergeant James, Corporals Calvin, Kirkman, Lydon, Sergeant Brown, Private Nesbitt, Private Reed, Corporals White and Sutton and Mail Orderly Collins. They left the wharf at the fort for Southport to get the evening mail and attend lodge meeting. When the launch was about midway between the Red Beacon and Southport the high pressure air tank exploded without warning, throwing everyone into confusion, the presence of mind of Sergeant Payne, Lieut. Gilmer, Engineer Corporal Cutshaw and Private Reed being responsible for the launch's not swamping. Private Collins has a broken leg and others were more or less injured. The launch Inga was the first to reach the Lillian's assistance, followed by the tug Sea King and the pilot boat M. C. Guthrie. Later it was found that Sergeant Brown was badly wounded, his left leg below the knee being nearly blown off. The prompt attention of Private Reed prevented his bleeding to death on the boat. The uninjured were taken to Southport in the Inga and the Sea King towed the disabled Lillian back to the post with the wounded. Pilot Rogers did not jump from the boat as reported, but was pushed off by other men in their confusion, being picked up later by a small boat from the Sea King. The Lillian is again in commission and making her regular trips. The accident demonstrates to all launch owners that it is unsafe to have whistles connected to cylinders.

Death of Edith Oldham.

The many friends of Mrs. Annie C. Oldham will deeply regret to learn of the death of little Edith Celeste, her two-year-old daughter, which occurred yesterday morning at 6 o'clock at the residence, on the Castle Haynes road. The child has been quite ill for several days and her death was not unexpected. The last sad rites will be held from the residence this morning at 9 o'clock and the interment will be in Oakdale cemetery.

AGED CITIZENS DEAD

Mr. Andrew J. Howell and Dr. J. E. Kea, Both Residents For Many Years.

PASSED AWAY YESTERDAY

First Named Eighty and Latter Ninety years of Age—Long Identified With Business and Professional Life of City.

There occurred yesterday morning almost within an hour of one another the deaths of two of Wilmington's most venerable and highly respected citizens, Mr. Andrew J. Howell, Sr., who answered the summons at 8 o'clock at his home, Seventh and Market streets, and Dr. James Edwin Kea, who passed away shortly after 9 o'clock at his home, No. 416 Walnut street.

The news of the death of each of these old and well known citizens quickly spread about the city and friends everywhere learned with sorrow of their passing, though both had been in very feeble health for some weeks. The tenderest sympathy goes out to all the bereaved ones in the sorrow which is theirs.

Mr. Andrew J. Howell.

The death of Mr. Andrew Jackson Howell removes from the community one who was long and prominently identified with the wharf and maritime interests of the port. Mr. Howell was born in Fayetteville, N. C., October 9th, 1828, and was, therefore, in the eightieth year of his age. With his widowed mother, he removed to Wilmington in his early boyhood and had been a resident here ever since with the exception of a few years' residence in New York City. He became early in life interested in the shipping of the port and through his long life had always manifested a keen interest in the progress and development of the port. In January 1858, in his young manhood, he formed with the late Mr. George Harriss, the firm of Harriss & Howell, for many years the leading firm of ship brokers and owners at the port of Wilmington. Previously he removed to New York and formed with Col. K. M. Murchison the firm of Murchison & Howell, which continued for a year or two, after which Mr. Howell returned to Wilmington. During the war the firm of Harriss & Howell was active in co-operation with the blockade-running, which was such a valuable aid to the Confederacy and so vital to its existence. Mr. Howell was regarded as an authority on maritime law and custom and his advice was frequently sought. At the beginning of the war Mr. Howell performed a short military service and always cherished the tenderest devotion to the cause of the Southland. The firm of Harriss & Howell continued in business until 1880, when Mr. Howell went with the old Carolina Central Railway, first as assistant to Capt. D. R. Murchison, the president, and later as auditor of the system in which position he continued until July, 1893, when the offices were removed to Portsmouth. Since that time he had not been actively engaged in business but manifested a lively interest in the affairs of life and was bright and cheerful in his disposition.

Mr. Howell was the oldest child of John William Howell and Rebecca Russell Howell. On Nov. 20th, 1861, he married Miss Laura Harriss, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. William Jas. Harriss, of this city. She with four children survive him, viz: Miss Eliza Bellamy Howell, Messrs. William H., Andrew J., Jr., and George H. Howell. He is also survived by a half-brother, Mr. Archibald D. Black, of Red Springs. These have the tenderest sympathy of all in the sorrow which has come to them.

Mr. Howell was a very devoted member of the First Presbyterian Church. He became a member of St. John's Lodge of Masons in 1850 and he was probably the oldest living member of that order in the city. Subsequently he became a charter member of Wilmington Lodge 319 and also of Concord Chapter, having held the office of High Priest for several terms and having been an officer of the Grand Chapter in the State. He was also a member of the Knights of Honor and was zealous and active in his support of the fraternal order work. He was indeed a good citizen and Wilmington regrets exceedingly his loss.

The funeral will be conducted from the late residence at 702 Market street at 10 o'clock this morning and the interment will be in the family lot in Oakdale cemetery.

Dr. James Edwin Kea.

Dr. Kea was the most venerable and one of the most worthy citizens of Wilmington, being in the 91st year of his age. He was born in Bladen county, N. C., March 9th, 1818, and had resided in Wilmington since 1842. He was a dentist by profession and was most skilled and reliable. A man of strict integrity, a quiet, genial companionable friend, he was held in the very highest esteem by those who knew him. He was a gentleman of courtly bearing and firmness of character. For many years he was a trustee of Grace M. E. Church and was a faithful and earnest believer in the Lord Jesus Christ as his personal Savior, ready at any time for the final summons. A few days before his death he said to his niece, "I am just waiting the call to come." One who knew him well for thirty years, said: "I have regarded him through all these years as a true man and a genuine Christian. I trust that we may meet again in that better, brighter world and there dwell forever in bliss and joy."

Dr. Kea was never married and is survived of the immediate family only by his sister, Mrs. Lucy E. Huston, with whom he resided. There are also a large number of nephews and nieces among them being Mrs. Mary E. Baugham, of this city; Dr. W. M. Huston, of Philadelphia; Mrs. Henry Burkheimer, Mrs. J. W. Fleet, Mrs. W. H. Sholar, of this city; Mrs. Sue M. McIntire, of Atlanta, and Mr. W. H. Newell, of Rocky Mount.

The funeral of Dr. Kea will be conducted at 5 o'clock this afternoon and the interment will be in Oakdale cemetery.

ANNUAL POLICE EXCURSION

The annual police excursion to Carolina Beach under the auspices of the local department proved an exceedingly pleasant trip yesterday and was attended by several hundred people who participated in the outing and the many interesting and happy features. In many respects it was a splendid success, particularly as to attendance which far exceeded the expectation of the arrangement committee, owing to the prevailing inclemency of the weather.

Almost the entire force of police, with several members of the Board of Aldermen and other city officials, and with between seven and eight hundred visitors went from Wilmington, and every detail of the well arranged trip was carried out with much precision. The steamer Wilmington, which was chartered for the day, conveyed the first large party to the beach, leaving Market street wharf at 8:15 o'clock. It is estimated that some 500 went to the beach on this trip and good crowds also went on the second and third trips at 11 A. M. and 2:30 P. M.

The unusual large party of excursionists at the Beach engaged in various forms of pleasure and were in the jolliest mood. The majority of them arrived home last evening at 7:30 o'clock and reported the events of the trip delightful, highly commending the splendid management of the general committee on arrangements. Added to the pleasures of the day was the dancing which was participated in by a number of couples, while the music for this feature was furnished by Russell's Orchestra. Bathing and bowling also proved very popular among the many pleasure-seekers.

The crowning event of the happy outing was the elaborate dinner tendered to the members of the police department by Captain and Mrs. John W. Harper. It was elegantly served and the police were highly elated over this special courtesy to them, and individually expressed their appreciation to Captain and Mrs. Harper for the delicious repast.

Lunches were served to many who were unable to carry their own dinner. The police were gratified at the donations of the merchants of Wilmington in provisions, which enabled them to give lunches to the poor and desire to express their sincere thanks to the many that so cheerfully aided in the success of the outing.

MRS. STRICKLAND'S DEATH

Good Woman Passed Away Yesterday. Funeral This Afternoon.

The death of Mrs. Olivia A. Strickland, a well known Wilmington lady, occurred yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock, after an illness covering a period of several days, at her home No. 1018 North Sixth street. She had been a resident of this city for a number of years and her death created the deepest sadness among a large number of relatives and friends.

The deceased was the widow of the late R. J. Strickland and surviving is one son, Mr. B. P. Strickland, of Wilmington; her father, Mr. W. J. Walters, and five brothers, all of whom reside at her former home in Goldsboro. The funeral will be conducted this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock from the home by Rev. A. D. McClure, D. D., pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, of which Mrs. Strickland had been a devoted member for many years. The remains will be interred in Bellevue cemetery.

Advent Christian Church Revival.

The revival meetings at the Second Advent Christian Church, Sixth and Church streets, have now reached a very interesting stage. A number are added to the church membership each evening and several are now awaiting baptism. Evangelist Kelley has had wide experience for a young man and is well versed in the language in which the Bible was originally written. The meetings will continue each night this week and all are cordially invited to hear this talented young preacher. The meetings will close on Sunday.

In a slow and rather indifferently played game of baseball at the new League Park yesterday afternoon the Newbern tailenders took the first game from the Wilmington Sailors, score three to two.

Flushed with their victory of four out of six games with the erstwhile Wilson champions, the Sailors went in with a super-abundance of confidence and played a listless game all through. Webster went in the rifle pit for the locals but was retired after the first inning as he was unwell at the outset, Wysong relieving him. But in the first inning the tailenders had chalked up two runs and this proved a lead which the locals were unable to overcome, Borden pitching a splendid game and keeping the ten hits accredited to Wilmington well scattered.

Wysong pitched a good game for Wilmington, but was not brilliant at fielding his position and let several hits get through that a quicker fielder would have pulled down.

Mr. VanArman umpired the game and gave fine satisfaction. He is quick of action and a man of decision, compelling the respect of the teams over which he holds the indicator.

The Game in Detail.

First Inning—The game opened with rain threatened at any moment, the teams being slow in getting into action. Newbern was first up with S. Yerkes at the bat. He was safe on error of short; Cox sacrificed; Sharp made infield hit and was safe on first; C. Yerkes up and S. Yerkes scored on passed ball; C. Yerkes walked; Ferguson hit through short and Sharp scored; Crowley up and C. Yerkes caught out at second; Crowley popped out to Rath. Two runs, two hits and one error. Wilmington up with Flynn at the bat, the very first man fanning; Hoey hit to short and on close decision at first, Hoey was safe on first; Kite sacrificed; Doak flew out on a beautiful catch by centre. No runs, one hit.

Second Inning—Wysong relieved Webster in the box. Swink fanned on the first three balls over the plate; Smith out, catcher to first; Borden flew to centre. Wilmington: Smith out, second to first; Rath fanned; Carneal popped out to short.

Third Inning—S. Yerkes out, third to first; Cox fanned; Sharp fanned: Wilmington: Jayes fanned; Wysong fanned; Flynn out, second to first.

Fourth Inning—C. Yerkes flew to second; Ferguson fanned; Crowley popped out to Rath. Wilmington; Hoey made a nice single to centre; Kite bunted safely; Doak hit hot to third; Smith hit to short and was out at first, but Hoey scored; Rath out second to first; Carneal flew out to pitcher. One run and three hits.

Fifth Inning—Swink out, third to first; Smith fanned; Borden out pitcher to first. Wilmington: Jayes made a clean single to left; Wysong fanned and Jayes stole second; Flynn sacrificed to first; Hoey out, third to first.

Sixth Inning—S. Yerkes out third to first; Cox singled to centre; Sharp flew to centre; C. Yerkes flew to right. One hit. Wilmington: Kite hit to left field fence for two bases, kissing the very first ball that came over the plate; Doak hit to centre, but was out while making designs on second; Smith made an infield hit to short; Rath up and Smith out going to second; Rath ran out a bunt and Kite crossed the rubber, tieing the score; Carneal out short to first. One run, four hits.

Seventh Inning—Ferguson popped out to catcher; Crowley flew to Carneal; Swink hit to centre; Smith out, short to first. No runs, one hit. Wilmington: Jayes singled to left; Wysong sacrificed; Flynn popped out to catcher; Hoey out, hit by batted ball. One hit, no run.

THE WRONG TACK.

"The merchants, nearly all, report business at a stand-still. Farmers are home at work, and the industrial part of Newbern's citizens are out of a job. People are leaving here for other places, and houses are becoming vacant every day. The fishing and river business is of the past and trucking is one long disappointment. All this goes to show the need of factories or some steady industrial employment, lest the city becomes the home only of the affluent and their servants."

The above lamentation appeared in the columns of the Journal of Newbern of yesterday. We are sorry to see that Brother Stevens has such a bad fit of the blues. We cannot believe that things are as bad in his city as he seems to think they are, and if they so be, he is taking the wrong course to better them. Surely an editor can not expect to induce capital to locate in his town in manufactories by telling the capitalists that his town is dead, that people are moving away; that one of its chief industries is dead and another is a thing of the past. Outside capital seeks investment in growing, progressive towns, not in those that retrograde, and when a newspaper makes the statement that its town is in the latter class it is aiding in closing its doors against the class of improvement it says is necessary for its advancement. The Journal is taking the wrong tack if it wishes to help its town. For Newbern's sake we hope that all who read the Journal's lamentation will attribute the same to an attack of indigestion on the part of the editor.

POLITICAL LEADERS PRESENT AND PAST.

Some one wants to know what has become of the old-fashioned party leader who used to tell the people what was best for them before he found out what the people wanted. Why, they are either all dead, or if living have been shoved to the rear by the latter day leader who always puts his ear to the ground for a good long while then takes a lengthy feel of the public pulse before he takes a position or advocates a movement in matters political. The new-style leader is much more popular because he never advises the people to do any thing until he finds that they want to do that very thing or have already made up their minds to do it. He never gives any advice that is displeasing; he never tries to head off a popular movement which would be of disadvantage to the general public though he knows what the outcome is likely to be; but he is always shrewd enough to "get from under" before the crash comes, or turns up serenely advocating the reactionary course when he finds the pendulum has begun to swing the other way. That is the class of political leaders we have these days and they are so successful in making the people believe they are realy leaders that at times we are inclined to doubt the truth of Mr. Lincoln's saying that one cannot fool all the people all the time. Any how those who are not fooled all the time by these leaders form a mighty small majority.

HON. THOMAS J. JARVIS.

The Charlotte Observer of yesterday pays the following tribute to that grand old Democrat and Tar Heel, Thomas J. Jarvis:

"Nothing could have been finer or more befitting the occasion than the speech of the grand old man in taking the position of temporary chairman of the convention yesterday. It was marked by his accustomed expressions of party loyalty, of devotion to the State and by the wisdom which characterizes all of his public utterances. It is said by many, and it stands true, that Governor Jarvis is our wisest man. And it must be great gratification to him to know, as he must know, how much he is honored, how much beloved by his people."

It is seldom, indeed, that a man retains his hold on the people so long after his retirement from political life as has ex-Governor Jarvis. Generally when a man retires from politics to private life the people are apt to consider his usefulness to his State gone and he passes out of the public mind. It is not so, however, with this man. As he grows older and gets further away from active politics he is still looked up to as a safe and sound adviser in matters pertaining to the good of his party and of his State. In years to come his name will stand high in the honor rool of North Carolina.

An exchange wants to know what has become of the old-fashioned mother who reared a score of sons to become honored and useful citizens? She disappeared along with the pliable-sole lady's slipper. The same paper wants to know what has become of the old-fashioned girl who thought betrothal as sacred as marriage. Some disappeared when the summer resort and the skimpy bathing suit came into fashion and the others went out of existence along with the modern idea that there is nothing sacred in marriage but that the tie is one only of temporary convenience.

Never run down your own town. If you can't say anything good about it the best thing to do is to say nothing. You can't expect to induce people with pockets full of money seeking investment for the same to move to your town if you spread broadcast the statement that business is dead, people moving away and more and more houses are becoming vacant. That is no way to induce manufacturers to establish industrial plants in your midst.

Colonel Henry Watterson has not made a political somersault in about two weeks. His last position was as advocate of Mr. Bryan's nomination. It is most time now for him to begin, through the columns of his paper, to denounce the Nebraskan's political ideas and to oppose his nomination. He has less than two weeks in which to make all charges contemplated.

We would like to know how people who were interested in politics got along in the times before the telegraph and the telephone were invented

CURRENT COMMENT.

—Governor Glenn has affixed his name to a proclamation which will make North Carolina dry on January 1st, 1909. Now is the time to visit North Carolina.—Houston Post.

—And now the Oyster Bay date line is getting in evidence again. We cordially and in advance invite President Roosevelt's successor to make his summer residence at one of the many North Carolina cool spots. He may have his choice of mountain or coast, and nowhere between the oceans would the cares of state rest upon him more lightly.—Charlotte Observer.

—The old saying that political platforms have only one service, to help political parties elect their men, seems to grow more a reality every campaign. It is not to be supposed that any platform of a political party is above attack. It is not merely that its opponents can find all sorts of rotten planks and loose joints, and show that instead of something firm to stand upon, it is merely a pit fall, and the public will witness the tumble of the party, when it gathers upon it.—Newbern Journal.

—For forty-seven minutes—or was it forty-nine, or forty-five?—the well organized clique of the Roosevelt convention "applauded" the name of Mr. Taft. This, we believe, established a new record for such feats of folly. But the interesting thing about this "spontaneous" burst of applause is not how long it continued, under pressure of hot air from Washington, but the reflection, what does it mean, and what does it forebode? No one imagines that the herded delegates at Chicago, duly branded by the Rough Rider cowboy who would have cast them out as intruding mavericks, rose upon their hind legs in unrestrained enthusiasm and bellowed for Big Bill. The machine-made nature of the cheers was so evident that it was painful, and momentarily more "enthusiasm" had to be injected into the faint-hearted and short-breathed delegates. The only meaning of such applause is that it signifies nothing but sound and fury and is a futile effort to bamboozle the voters.—Columbia State.

—We felicitate our contemporary, The Charlotte Observer, upon its safe, albeit somewhat narrow, deliverance from its libel suit troubles. The jury found that The Observer's Blackville, S. C., dispatch to which Rev. Mr. Billings took the emphatic exceptions was founded upon facts, but just to show the plaintiff that there are no hard feelings these twelve good men and true awarded him damages in the sum of $5,000. Very likely our contemporary was momentarily jarred by this novel verdict, but Judge Ward quickly allayed its fears by squaring the last end of the verdict with the first, which relieved The Observer of the necessity of paying over to the plaintiff the $5,000. June is the poorest month of the year in the newspaper business, especially since the paper trust outwitted the House leadership, and had our contemporary been confronted with the necessity of contributing this goodly sum to the Rev. Mr. Billings it might have found the operation somewhat annoying.—Industrial News.

—The Republican platform is an ingenius document. We have in the New York Times a copy of it as it was originally drafted and subsequently blue penciled, as we, in the editorial business, say. This blue penciling gives away the whole story of the objects of the platform. It is to carry the people into the swirl of Republicanism through oratorical platitudes. Yes, it is very pretty. But in the last analysis of the case it is about as inocuous as milk and water tea, or one of Miss Edgeworth's novels. It is a nice thing to swallow, but having swallowed it, in the sense of having committed yourself to it, you find that you are, as a voter, what Mr. Roosevelt would say was a mollycoddle. There is not a plank in the platform that is not to a certain degree soothing syrup; there is not a declaration that does not hedge. There is not an unequivocal commitment to any principal. Dissect it and you find that there is a way out on every proposition. Worked into it on nearly every line there is the tracery of the if and the and.—Richmond News Leader.

—In selecting a nominee for the Vice Presidency, little beyond expediency is considered by political parties. It is unfortunate that this is so, but it is, and we may as well recognize it. The head of the ticket having been pitched upon, when the time comes to select the Vice Presidential nominee, practically the only inquiry is, "Who will add strength to the ticket?" When this question is answered the man is selected. Geographical considerations usually play—and with reason—a great part in answering this question. The nomination is used to influence a doubtful State or a group of doubtful States. Another consideration—we may as well be frank—is a financial one. A campaign fund is absolutely necessary to meet perfectly legitimate expenses. And so, if the Presidential nominee is not a man of large wealth, which he seldom is, it is a matter of moment with party leaders to select a man for the Vice Presidency who is able to make large contributions to the legitimate expenses of the campaign. At present it looks as though W. G. Conrad, who is being urged for the second place on the Democratic ticket, very nearly supplies the requisites. Born in Virginia and still maintaining a home here in Clark county, he has spent a large part of his life in Montana. He has great business interests in that and neighboring States and is understood to wield great political influence throughout the northwestern tier of commonwealths. He is a leader in those great irrigation projects that are so close to the hearts of the dwellers in the West.—Richmond Journal.

TWINKLINGS.

—Old Maid (in upper berth of Pullman ringing bell violently)—Porter! Porter—Yaas, ma'am. Old Maid—I'm quite sure there's a man under my bed!—Bohemian.

—"Smoking may not hurt some people," said Mrs. Lapsling, "but it isn't good for a nervous man like my husband. You know it's the Nicodemus in tobacco that makes it so injurious."—Chicago Tribune.

—She—I see where a fellow married a girl on his death-bed, just so she could have his millions when he was gone. Could you love a girl like that? He—Sure, I could love a girl like that! Where does she live?—Puck.

—At the Dentist's.—'Ow much, mister?" "Half a crown, please." "Wot! Why, it didn't take yer half a minute. The last bloke I went to pulled me all round the room for a quarter of an hour, and then only charged me a shillin',"—Pall Mall Magazine.

—Rector—Susie, I was sorry not to see your father at church this morning. Susie—Please, no, sir. He went out walking in the woods. Rector—Ah, Susie, I'm afraid that your father does not fear the Lord. Susie—Guess he does, too. He took his gun with him.—The Nurse.

—"It's no use," said the young man with heavy rimmed eyeglasses. "I can't get this political economy straight.' "What's the trouble?" asked the professor. "I can't discover whether a lot of people go broke because we have hard times or whether we have hard times because a lot of people go broke."—Washington Star.

—Mother—Just run upstairs, Tommy, and fetch baby's nightgown. Tommy—Don't want to. Mother—Oh, well, if you're going to be unkind to your new little sister, she'll put on her wings and fly back again to heaven. Tommy—Then let her put on her wings and fetch her nightgown!—Punch.

—Mr. Stubb (in astonishment)—Gracious, Maria! That t-amp has been singing out in the back yard for the last hour, Mrs. Stubb—Yes, John, it is all my fault. Mr. Stubb—Your fault? Mrs. Stubb—Indeed it is. I thought I was giving him a dish of boiled oatmeal and instead of that I boiled up the birdseed by mistake.—Chicago Daily News.

—"Do you know the value of an oath? asked the judge of an old darkey who was to be the next witness. "Yes, sah, I does. One ob dese yeah lawyers done gip me foah dollars for to swear to suffin. Dat's de value of and oath. Foah dollars, 'sah." And then there was consternation in the court room.—St. Joseph News.

—The agent of the titled wooer found that the ambitious American girl had only $150,000 a year. Of course, he advised his principal to withdraw. "But," insisted the latter, "I could scrap along on $150,000." "Possibly, but who'd support your wife?" Even love could put forth no argument against this.—New York World.

—Little Margie on her first visit to a farm was told to wander about the barn and search for eggs. Some time later the child returned almost in tears. "Couldn't you find any eggs, dearie?" asked her mother. "No," replied Margie, wearily. "I think it's mean, too, 'cause lots of hens were standing around doing nothing."—Lippincott's Magazine.

Cottolene

Lengthens your life

Cottolene is a cleanly, wholesome product. It is made from cotton-seed oil, in a thoroughly modern and hygienic manner, and is just as pure as olive oil. It, moreover, makes palatable, digestible, healthful food which will agree with the most delicate stomach. Lard food on the contrary, is indigestible, and will cause trouble if its use is persisted in.

Cottolene is endorsed by the most prominent cooks and household economists of the country, as well as by those of the medical profession who make a special study of pure food. There is no substitute for Cottolene, because there is no shortening so good as Cottolene. It stands alone, as everyone who has used it according to directions will verify.

Cottolene is Guaranteed We hereby authorize your grocer to refund your money in case you're not pleased after having given COTTOLENE a fair test.

Never Sold in Bulk COTTOLENE is packed in pails with a patent air-tight top, to keep it clean, fresh and wholesome; also to prevent it from absorbing the disagreeable odors of the grocery, such as fish, oil, etc.

DRAMATIC RECITAL

Miss Shatteen Mitchell, of Atlanta, will give a dramatic recital in the concert hall of the Seashore Hotel, Friday evening, July 3rd. This will be a very delightful occasion and is being anticipated with great pleasure.

Miss Mitchell has received a most enthusiastic welcome wherever she has appeared and her Lyceum work has been pronounced the best on the Southern platform. The entertainment Friday evening will be for the benefit of a most worthy cause and will be given under the auspices of a number of ladies deeply interested in artistic events.

Advertising Pays.

The dog advertised in the Star as lost on Wrightsville Beach has returned home. The owner of the dog cannot vouch for the entire accuracy of the story, but says that some one observing his homeless and hungered condition, threw him some scraps of lunch wrapped up in a copy of the Star which contained the advertisement spoken of, which attracting the notice of his dogship led to his taking the next car for the city. Be that as it may, the owner contends that an advertisement in the Star always brings results.

Clothing Merchants to Close.

The following clothing merchants have signed an agreement to close their places of business Friday afternoons during the Summer beginning today and lasting until Sept. 4th, all shoppers being requested to make their purchases before the closing, the action being to allow employes to enjoy half-holidays during the heated period, viz: J. M. Solky & Co., A. Shrier, J. P. Taylor, J. W. Fleet Co., W. J. Penny & Co., R. F. Hamme, A. David Co., I. Shrier, Munson & Co., M. H. Curran, E. Poezolt, J. W. H. Fuchs and Horwitz Brothers.

Now Admitted to the Firm.

The many friends of Mr. Eugene M. Beery, one of the most popular young insurance men in the city, will be interested and pleased at the announcement that he has been admitted as a partner into the old and well known insurance firm of Clayton Giles & Son. Mr. Beery is a man of wide experience and popularity and will add strength to the firm by which he has been employed for a long number of years.

Preached to the Greeks.

The Greeks of Wilmington assembled yesterday morning in the Church of the Good Shepherd, the use of which was given them through the kindness of Revs. R. W. Hogue and T. P. Noe, and heard an interesting sermon by Rev. C. Hadpidimittriau, a consecrated and powerful divine from the Greek Orthodox Church, of Atlanta, Ga. The congregation was composed exclusively of Greeks and there was a good attendance.

NO NOMINATION YET

It was at this point that it looked as if personal encounters would be precipitated and that there was little doubt about such an outcome. Men shouted and shook their fists, sometimes at close proximity to each other's countenances and the din was so loud that one standing two feet away could not catch the drift of the many discussions going on.

A number of Charlotte men, however, entered the arena with peaceable intentions and Mr. McNinch, securing a megaphone finally secured sufficient quiet to get in a few words addressed specially to the Kitchin side of the house. He said that Mr. Manning had well taken the point that the second motion to adjourn was out of order as no business had been transacted between the first and second motions to adjourn. He added though that he thought it would be a good plan, in view of the situation, to adjourn for a later hour and his advice seconded by others of cooler heads prevailed and the politicians marched out, sleepy, tired and being as much excited as their weariness from an all-night watch would involve.

One of the exciting incidents of this mornings "scrapping" exhibitions was the destruction by delegates of a huge banner made of cloth on tough wooden strips which inside of sixty seconds was reduced from a neat looking object to junk. The banner was about eight feet square and was being hoisted to the platform by some of the ardent Kitchin men when an onslaught was made upon it by some of the Craig men who shouted that the banner shouldn't be "hoisted" at that point. Seven or eight men grabbed the big wood and cloth banner and half pulled one way while the others pulled in any way but that in which the possessors of the banner wanted it to go. Suddenly the strips of wood snapped, the cloth gave way, and the banner went to pieces in sight of the entire audience. As the struggle went on the surging mass of men yelled and shouted and called each other names that would not be palatable at a literary gathering perhaps. The balloting began tonight at 8:45 o'clock.

After the All-Night Session.

Charlotte, N. C., June 25.—The all-night session was adjourned at 7 o'clock, the last ballot having been reported at 2:30 A. M. The third was taken at 3 o'clock and resulted as follows: Kitchin 377, Craig 334, Horne 146. The fourth ballot after an interminable discussion as to the Tyrell vote, resulted as folows: Craig 331.285, Kitchin 337.205, Horne 148.51. The Kitchin men were complaining loudly of what they termed arbitrary ruling by Chairman Parsons and there were cries at times for the vice chairman.

The Afternoon Session.

Charlotte, N. C., June 25.—When the convention reassembled in the afternoon, the fifth ballot was announced at 2:18 P. M., as follows: Kitchin 377.35, Craig 327.69, Horne 151.77. Up to the tenth ballot had been taken at 4:45 o'clock with no material change and the convention took a recess until 8:30 o'clock.

The Night Session.

Charlotte, N. C., June 25.—Weary and worn with the strenuous work of the afternoon, but apparently as determined as ever the delegates were all in their places again tonight at 8:30 o'clock, the convention being called to order in the vast auditorium fifteen minutes later. Roll call was begun for the tenth ballot and up to midnight the tedium continued the results being as follows at the end of each count:

Ballots.	Kitchin	Craig	Horne
Tenth	380.05	329.435	147.56
Eleventh	380.445	327.075	149.48
Twelfth	380.945	331.735	144.32
Thirteenth	381.145	335.235	140.62
Fourteenth	382.325	321.615	151.06

MARRIAGE AT FAISON.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Faison, N. C., June 25.—A quiet and beautiful home wedding took place last night, Mr. A. D. Hicks being joined in matrimony to Miss Kiturah Witherington, at the home of the bride. A few friends were present to witness the impressive ceremony, performed by their pastor, Rev. Peter McIntyre. The bride was accompanied by her nieces, Mrs. S. A. Wooten, of Mount Olive, dame of honor, Miss Elizabeth Hicks, maid of honor, all entering the beautiful parlor, where stood the groom. During the ceremony Mrs. Annie Witherington softly played, "Promise Me", adding much sweetness, in keeping with the occasion. Mr. and Mrs. Hicks are among our most prominent people and many friends attested their esteem by the gifts presented and wish them all happiness.

MR. DEEMS CAPPS JAILER.

Succeeds His Brother Who Has Gone to Norfolk—Takes Charge.

Sheriff Cowan yesterday appointed Mr. Deems Capps as county jailer to succeed his brother, Mr. E. S. Capps, who rather peremptorily resigned Wednesday and left for Norfolk, giving no reason for his action. A letter was received from him last night, but it is not known whether he expects to return. The appointment of Mr. Deems Capps, however, is permanent and he will turn the keys on the New Hanover derelicts in the future. He is a young man of experience as a jailer and the appointment is regarded as a speindid one.

Representative James Sherman, Republican V Pereisci sMhd!a1BC-v$ Republican Vice Presidential candidate, made such rapid progress in recovering from his illness yesterday that all thoughts of immediate operation have subsided. The candidate is near recovery, Dr. E. P. Carter said last night that there was no reason to be anxious over his patient.

Ninth Inning—Crowley out, short to first; Swink singled to centre; Smith up and Swink stole second; Smith hit to third and was out, but on slow fielding Swink advanced to third; Borden popped out to catcher. No runs, one hit. Wilmington: Rath out, catcher to first; Carneal up and Catcher Smith injured; Carneal flew to right; Jayes walked; McDonnell, batting for Wysong, up and Jayes stole second; McDonnell flew out to left. In stealing second Jayes suffered a bad sprain of the ankle and had to be carried off the field, attended by a physician. He will be laid up, however, only a day or two at most, from present indications. The game went to the tailenders and the five hundred spectators left the grounds after a very poor exhibition of the National sport.

THE BASEBALL TRAFFIC.

Enclosures and Gates at New League Park Are Completed.

The enclosures and gates at the new baseball park to avoid crowding and the possibility of accidents in boarding and leaving cars at that point, have been completed and were in use yesterday for the first time. The public has not yet become accustomed to the new plan of handling this traffic, therefore there was much confusion yesterday. In order to facilitate the traffic, all passengers before being allowed to pass through the gates are required to give their tickets to the gatekeeper and no tickets are taken up on the car. This avoids the necessity of sometimes running slow back to town in order that the conductor may collect the fares. Yesterday afternoon a large number of people had not provided themselves with return tickets and crowded about the gates, being, of course, denied admission to the cars. This is, of course, provoking at first blush, but if all passengers will provide themselves with tickets on the trip out to the park, they will find that the new arrangement is a splendid one. It is to be hoped at least that they will give the new arrangement a fair trial before condemning it in favor of the absence of any regulations whatever as has been the case heretofore.

WORK ON CATHEDRAL

Handsome Church to Cost $90,000 is Being Rapidly Constructed.

The handsome new St. Thomas' Pro-Cathedral in course of construction at the northwest corner of Fifth and Ann streets, within a few months, provided the work is carried on as rapidly as at present, will assume presentable shape. The beautiful and costly church, it is believed, will require two years for completion and will doubtless be the most magnificent cathedral in the State. All details connected with the beginning of the work are under the direction of the building committee appointed by the members of the church some time ago and is composed of Alderman Martin O'Brien, and Messrs. Timothy Donlan, M. J. Corbett and M. W. Divine, assisted by Rev. Fathers Dennen and Marion.

The design of the building will be Spanish Renaissance in the shape of a perfect cross. It is also intimated that plans are being considered for the erection of a rectory upon the same lot. However, nothing definite can be given in regard to the proposed building at the present time.

T. W. Tiers, former discount clerk of the First National Bank of Pittsburg, was arrested late yesterday on an information made by National Bank Examiner William L. Folds, charging him with the abstraction of about $51,000 of the bank's funds. Tiers furnished bail in the sum of $10,000 for a hearing. All the money was taken from the bank from February 8, 1896 to July 26, 1906.

—Arrested Wednesday afternoon on the charge of trading horses without license, J. D. Sidbury was carried before Justice Sykes yesterday and judgment was suspended, as he had secured the required license before the trial. ANOTHER BOOM STARTED

It is That of Kern, of Indiana, For Vice President.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Denver, Colo., June 25.—Thomas Taggart, chairman of the National Democratic Committee came to town today bringing along a vice presidential boom which he put forth with much enthusiasm.

"Bryan will be nominated on the first ballot without a doubt, and his running mate will be John W. Kern, of Indiana."

This was the greeting Mr. Taggart gave to newspaper men. A little later, when he had visited the convention hall, he exhibited little less enthusiasm.

"The arrangements for the convention are fine," he said, "I cannot see how they could be improved upon. The auditorium is a wonderful piece of architecture and everything seems to be in most tip-top shape."

Chairman Taggart has called a meeting of the national committee for Saturday, July 4, when the principal business will be to hear and determine the contests for seats as delegates which have been filed. These are comparatively few in number. So far as filed with Secretary Woodson they include contests from the Second, Third, Fourth, Fifth, Sixth, and Seventh districts of New York; the Ninth Ohio and the delegation from the District of Columbia. It has been reported that a number of seats from Illinois were to be contested, but as yet no official notice of such intention has been received.

HEARST'S NEW MOVE.

(By Wire to the Morning Star)

New York, June 25.—With the practical close of the actual recounting of the ballots cast in the last mayoralty election today came charges by Clarence J. Shearn, counsel for W. R. Hearst, that the ballot boxes had been stuffed. When Mr. Hearst began his legal contest for the mayor's office now occupied by George B. McClellan, he had a plurality of 3,834 votes to overcome. The returns from the contents of only 46 out of a total of 1,948 ballot boxes remained to be received when court adjourned today. The vote in all the boxes but three in Manhattan still held up by the court's order have been recounted, but the result of the re-count of those in 43 boxes in the Borough of Richmond has not been made known to the court. As the recount stands with the contents of 46 boxes unreported, Hearst has made a net gain of 863, leaving a plurality of 2,971 for Mayor McClellan.

Mr. Shearn said that the recount of the ballots established the complaint set forth, namely, that there was an excess of ballots in the boxes over the record of number of voters in many election districts. "The complaint charges fraud," said Mr. Shearn, "not only in a miscount of the ballots, but, in effect, charges a stuffing of the ballot boxes. We don't mean that the boxes were stuffed after the election, but during the election or immediately at its closing."

Mr. Shearn added that he was able to prove that some 10 to 50 excess ballots had been deposited in many boxes late on election night and that at the final hearing on the recount a new charge will be made that in many instances ballot boxes were stuffed. He asked the court to give him an opportunity to prove this charge.

Later, Mr. Shearn said that he believed the complainant would still be able to prove frauds sufficiently large to invalidate Mayor McClellan's title to his office.

Counsel for Mayor McClellan declared that the charge of ballot box stuffing was baseless.

The hearing will continue Monday.

J. H. Crabill and his son Ed Crabill, both of Roanoke, Va., were arrested last night on a charge of riding on railroad passes in violation of the Hepburn act. They were taken before United States Commissioner White and bailed for their appearance later in the week. The warrants were sworn out by the Norfolk and Western railroad after a conversation with the United States District Attorney. It is said that recently a number of passes have been missing from the round house in Roanoke and it is charged that the Crabills got hold of one or two of them and used them.

Looting and disorder are not yet at an end in Tehran and while the city is more quiet than it was Tuesday and Wednesday and the people and troops are more orderly, further street encounters are expected. The Shah has appointed the Russian Colonel of Cossacks to the position of Governor of Tehran.

William J. Bryan was asked last night to verify the published report that he would object to Governor Johnson, of Minnesota, as his running mate. Mr. Bryan said: "I am not discussing the Vice Presidential situation. If I have anything to say I will say it to the public."

Mrs. Cecile Billups, of Edgewater, near Norfolk, Va., and prominent in society, aged 30 years, accidentally shot herself last night at her home in Edgewater. It is explained that Mrs. Billups was reaching for a bottle of medicine on a shelf in a closet and knocked the pistol down.

Norman Elberfeld, of the New York baseball club of the American League was yesterday chosen manager of the team to succeed Clark Griffith, who resigned. President Farrell told the players that if necessary he would spend money to secure one or two good players to strengthen the team.

At Lebanon, Tenn., Captain Ellis Harper is shot and killed by William Suit, whom it is said, Harper had attacked with a stick. Suit, who is one of Governor Patterson's friends, is alleged to have written an article for a Nashville paper at which Harper, who is a Carmack adherent, took offense.

Justice Bischoff in the New York Supreme Court discharged Melville Collins and Joseph Loewy, who were recently arrested at the Sheepshead Bay race track for alleged violation of the anti-betting law. Assistant District Attorney Elder, of Brooklyn, said under a recent decision of the Court of Appeals both commitments were illegal and could not stand.

E. W. Overby, cashier of the Bank of Mecklenburg, and C. Haskins, cashier of the Charles City branch of the same institution were indicted by a special grand jury at Boyden, Va., yesterday. Five indictments were returned against Overby and four against Haskins. Both are charged with fraudulently disposing of money belonging to the respective banks and with other offenses.

After she had drowned the four children she tried to drown herself but neighbors and people of the town came running and rescued her.

The Georgia Industrial Association at its annual session yesterday adopted resolutions urging cotton manufacturers who are members of the association to curtail production by stopping their mills for at least four weeks between now and September 1. The resolution sets forth that it is impossible to purchase cotton at prevailing prices and manufacture it into any product which can be sold for a price that will not involve loss. The association represents about 200,000,000 spindles in that State.

THE IOWA DEMOCRACY.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Sioux Falls, Ia., June 25.—Enlivened in its last hours by a spirited contest over the liquor plank in its platform, the fight on which had been previously waged for four hours in the committee on resolutions, the Democratic State convention was brought to a close late today with enthusiastic cheers for William Jennings Bryan and for the Iowa State ticket. The liquor plank, which was adopted by a good majority, simply affirms the traditional policy of the party with reference to local self-government.

A plank was offered favoring local option and deploring the attempt to again inject into the politics of the State the question of re-submission of the prohibitory amendment. In the interest of harmony this plank was finally withdrawn and in its place was inserted the following:

"We re-affirm the traditional policy of the Democratic party with reference to local self-government and home rule."

HAVE LET VENEZUELA

American Diplomatics Reach Curacao On a Warship.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Willemstad, Curacao, June 25.—The American gunboat Marietta came into port early today from Porto Cabello. She has on board Jacob Sleeper, Secretary of the American Legation in Venezuela, and Lieutenant Francis A. Ruggles, the military attaches and Mrs. Ruggles.

Mr. Sleeper has been acting as charge d'affaires at Caracas since the departure of Minister Russell early in May. He and Lieutenant Ruggles withdrew from the legation at Caracas, placing the interests of the United States in charge of the Brazilian legation at Caracas.

The city physician has given orders that the passengers on board the Marietta be placed in quarantine, and consequently the gunboat is still inside the lagoon and no communication with her passengers is permitted. Only the officers are allowed to come ashore

—Wilson, N. C., June 24.—Tonight at the Lyceum, while the Indian opera "Powhatan," was being produced here by talent from Rocky Mount, in the twinkling of an eye the house became enshrouded in darkness and great clouds of smoke came gushing through the lower parts of the stage. Pandemonium reigned supreme for a few brief moments. Cool heads urged the audience to be quiet, that in the event fire should break out they would have ample time to make their exit. Fortunately the advice was heeded, otherwise hundreds might have been trampled to death.

Hon. William H. Taft, the Republican nominee for President is expected to make the annual address before the Virginia State Bar Association at Hot Springs, August 6. Mr. Taft has accepted conditionally but his subject has not been announced.

MONDAY NIGHT

SPIRITS TURPENTINE

—Goldsboro Argus: The cross ties for the Goldsboro Street Railway have arrived and are now at the Atlantic Coast Line freight yard waiting for distribution along the right-of-way. We go forward.

—Salisbury Post: Dr. I. H. Foust was this morning at 5 o'clock called to convict camp No. 2 near Summer's Siding to attend a negro convict by the name of Jim Crump, who had made an unsuccessful attempt to take his life. He had in some way secured a knife or razor and cut his throat inflicting ugly wound about six inches in length from which he bled profusely. However no large arteries were severel and Crump will recover.

—Charlotte Observer: Contractor J. A. Jones yesterday had his huge force of laborers on the skyscraper lift one of the last columns of the structure in order to show the delegates the full height of the building. On the topmost point of the column he placed a 32-candle-power light which designated the distance last night. Two United States flags were strung up in the same region and all day long they tantalized the visitors. The skycraper is getting its share of advertisement and is one of the biggest attractions to be seen here just now.

—Tarboro Southerner: Deputy Sheriff Frank Dawson is putting forth every effort to apprehend the perpetrator of the dastardly deed at Foxhall dairy, Monday evening, when a three hour old baby was left in the woods to die. Mr. Dawson made another trip to the scene of the discovery today, and found that the party who had placed the infant in the woods had walked from the East Carolina railroad tracks. Mr. Dawson learned today that a white woman was seen about 10:30 o'clock Monday morning walking rapidly from the East Carolina railroad towards the woods where the child was found.

—Charlotte Observer: Her friends will hear with regret that Miss Irene Hall was rather severely injured yesterday afternoon by being thrown from her horse at the corner of Sixth and Brevard streets. Several bad gashes were suffered about her head and other bruises were sustained, none of which, however, are thought to be serious. She was unconscious for some time after the accident, but the attending physicians stated last night that she was not dangerously hurt. When she went to turn the corner, her horse whirled too swiftly and precipitated her to the hard street on which were scattered a number of loose rocks.

—Tarboro, June 24.—Dr. S. Westray Battle is in receipt of a telegram informing him of the death Monday night the 22nd instant, at Norfolk, Conn., of Lieutenant Francis Winslow, United States Navy, for many years of this State, having been detailed by the government to survey the sounds of North Carolina with the view of arousing interest in shell fish culture. He was eminently fitted for the work, being the best authority in America upon matters pertaining to oyster culture. The State remembers how well he performed his duty to his own honor and the commonwealth's best interests, and must note with deep regret the death of this officer who made his home with us for many years. Lieutenant Winslow had been in failing health for some time, and had repaired to the hills of Connecticut with his family for the summer.

—Statesville, N. C., June 24.—Statesville condemned the oil tanks of the Standard Oil Company, which are located near the depot, and passed an ordinance to compell the company to move its tanks outside of the city limits before a certain date. At first the oil monopoly paid no attention to the ordinance and later the attorneys of the company insinuated that they would fight the matter in the courts. Finally the attorneys asked for an extension of the time in which they were allowed to move the tanks and this was done, the limit being made July 1st. The company has now secured a new location for their tanks near the railroad east of town, and will move the tanks as soon as the work can be done—at least the attorneys promise that this will be done.

—Elizabeth City Star: Mr. Jacques Busbee the celebrated North Carolina artist was in the city today on his way to Roanoke Island. Hatteras and other points on the North Carolina coast. Mr. Busbee has a commission from the State Historical society to paint some North Carolina historical views. Mr. Busbee will go to Kill Devil Hill first, then to Roanoke Island. He has decided to paint four pictures, representing the four principal events in the early history of the English Colonists. His first picture will be the landing of the Colonists at Kill Devil Hill; the next will be the landing on Roanoke Island which occurred the year after the first landing; the third will be the Baptism of the Indian Chief Manteo, who embraced Christianity and became the fast and warm friend of the whites; the fourth will be the birth of Virginia Dare, the first white child born of English parentage.

He Got What He Needed.

"Nine years ago it looked as if my time had come," says Mr. C. Farthing of Mill Creek, Ind. Ter. "I was so run down that life hung on a very slender thread. It was then my druggist recommended Electric Bitters. I bought a bottle and I got what I needed—strength. I had one foot in the grave, but Electric Bitters put it back on the turf again, and I've been well ever since." Sold under guarantee at R. R. Bellamy's drug store. 50c.

BUG DEATH

One of the great growers of seed potatoes in Maine who has made a life study of Irish potatoes, has demonstrated beyond question that it is impossible to apply Paris Green to potato vines in any quantity without weakening the vitality of the tuber. Bug Death will not injure the plant but will stimulate its growth. It will not wash off, it is perfectly harmless to animals and people, and has a wonderful power to prevent blight, rust and those diseases so generally prevalent among melons and vegetables.

THE COTTON MARKET.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, June 25.—After a fairly steady session the cotton market became weak and unsettled today, with the close steady but at a net decline of 10 to 17 points. Sales were estimated at 150,000 bales.

The market opened steady at an advance of 5 points to a decline of one point, generally a shade higher on active months and during the hours sold up to a net gain of 2 to 5 pointh on better cables than expected, buying of near months by spot interests and covering by Wall street shorts. Weather advices were generally favorable, however, crop reports were bearish, there were further reports of short time in Germany and cables turned easier toward the close of the English market. During the afternoon it looked as though there still was some scattered long interest in July which was trying to liquidate before notices expected tomorrow. The market turned weak shortly after midday and at one time during the afternoon showed a net loss of 16 to 22 points with the crop months selling below the low figures of last Tuesday a fact which in itself rather tended to encourage bearish sentiment. The close was 4 to 6 points up from the lowest on covering. Expectations of a bearish government condition report next Wednesday were among the bearish factors. During the afternoon it looked as though there still was some scattering long interest in July which was trying to liquidate before notices expected tomorrow.

Receipts at the ports today were 6,176 bales against 7,788 last week and 3,533 last year. For the week 50,000 bales against 48,723 last week and 27,984 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans were 689 bales against 1,171 last year and at Houston 1,303 bales against 445 last year.

Spot cotton closed steady, 10 points lower; middling uplands 11.70; middling gulf 11.95; sales 1,500 bales.

DRY GOODS MARKET.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, June 25.—Sales of about 10,000 0bales of drills, sheetings, jeans and cotton flannels have been made to China this week. Today a sweeping sale was made of Aberfoyle fancy cottons at 9 cents a yard, the goods having sold this season all the way from 17 1-2c to 25c. Trade in the jobbing houses for the day was good and the clearances will be continued for the balance of the week. Men's wear lines are being prepared for opening after the holiday. The general tone of the market is but fairly steady.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

(By Wire to the Morning Star)

New York, June 25.—The shifting fluctuations in prices today marked the lack of speculative conviction on the part of the small operators who made up the market. Part of the idleness and indifference of the trading is attributable to the seasonable disinclination to effort and the desire for vacation leisure. Demand for securities is almost stagnant. The action of American Locomotive today served as an object lession to bear traders who do not observe sufficient caution in selling stocks short. The declaration of the usual quarterly dividend on that stock proved an agreeable surprise to some holders and a correspondingly unpleasant shock to the bears who have assumed with great confidence that the dividend was to be reduced or even passed.

Reports of crop news varied during the day, allegations og extensive damage to winter wheat having some influence in the stock market at one time. These reports were denied and the weakness of the wheat market in response to the denials gave them force. J. P. Morgan was reported, on the eve of his return to Europe, as declaring himself optimstic over the financial outlook, and this utterance was of effect in the late firmness of the market, which was held until the closing. The day's gains are small, as a rule, but last prices generally were the best.

Bonds were irregular. Total sales, par value were $1,438,000. United States 2s and 3s declined 1-4 per cent. on call. Total sales today were 244,800 shares.

OUR RELATIONS WITH VENEZUELA

No Further Difficulty Between The Two Nations Looked For By Our Government.

DIPLOMATIC RELATIONS

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Washington, June 25.—The American government is not looking for any further trouble in Venezuela, and the recall of Jacob Sleeper, charge, and Lieutenant Ruggles, of the legation at Caracas, apparently ends the diplomatic incident, unless President Castro adds to the complication by some official act. Almost a dozen consular officers and agents of the American Government are stationed in the several Venezuelan cities and it is understood that there is no intention on the part of the Government to remove them as they are attending to the interests of American citizens and their absence would be undesirable. These agents have no diplomatic functions. But if there should be sufficient reason the State Department would not hesitate to direct them to surrender their exequaturs and request the officers of some other Government to look after the interests of the United States. Officials here are watching with interest the developments in Venezuela, but it 's not thought likely that there will be trouble to necessitate any force for the protection of American interests.

Those who are familiar with conditions there point to the presence in the neighboring State of Colombia of many members of the revolutionary party and it is reported that some of these are fomenting a filibustering expedition on a large scale. These "emigres," it is sa'd, might enter Venezuela in the neighborhood of Maracaibo. While it would be a violation of international law on the part of Colombia to permit the organization of such an expedition, the fact that the diplomatic relations between the two countries have been interrupted for more than a year would doubtless make Colombia less watchful to prevent such an outcome.

The American Government, by a mere coincidence, has an ample force near Venezuelan waters to take care of American interests in the event of any uprising. In the waters of the West Indies and the isthmian canal zone there are a number of vessels that could be dispatched promptly to any possible scene of trouble. No thought has been given to the concentration of any force in that neighborhood, but in the case of necessity little time would be lost in getting them together. The Navy Department will soon have the battleships New Hampshire and Idaho and the cruisers Prairie and Tacoma in isthmian waters, they having been utilized in carrying marines and blue jackets to the isthmus and for transfer to the Pacific coast.

While such important events are taking place in the affairs of Venezuela the Venezuelan charge here, Senor Veloz-Loiticoa, remains confident that he is not to be disturbed. The State Department has no intention to have him leave and if he does so it will be because of the wishes of his own Government. The State Department does not even admit that there is any crisis in Venezuelan relations with the United States, not being willing to define what those relations are, except to admit that the members of the American legation have been called to this country for reasons not stated. There appears to be no intention to make any further move, so that whatever is to be done apparently must come from President Castro.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Philadelphia, June 25.—The body of Mrs. Annie Cassner, aged 27 years, was found today lying on the sidewalk in the northeastern section of the city, with a stab wound in the heart. A butcher knife found in the street a square from the body led to the arrest of Robert Brown, aged 22 years, a butcher, who had paid court to Mrs. Cassner before her marriage. He denied knowledge of the crime, but when confronted with the corpse of Mrs. Cassner he broke down and confessed. He made a scene and the police were compelled to drag him from the body. Brown encountered Mrs. Cassner on the street and when she repulsed him, the police say, the stabbing followed.

THE ELECTION IN PANAMA.

Twelve Hundred American Marines on Hand to See Fair Play.

(By Wire to the Morning Star)

Washington, June 25.—Word reached the Navy Department today of the arrival of the cruiser Tacoma at Colon with 80 marines. In all the American Government will have 1,250 marines in the canal zone before election day for any service that may be required in preventing frauds and keeping the peace. Both parties in Panama are claiming the advantage as election day approaches, according to information reaching the State Department. There is no excitement, however.

THE CLEVELAND FUNERAL

Will Occur at 5 O'clock This Afternoon—To be as Simple as Can Possibly be Made—The President's Guard—Pallbearers.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Princeton, N. J., June 25.—The funeral of Grover Cleveland tomorrow will be marked by extreme simplicity. Although twice elected President of the United States, no pomp or splendor will have a place in the ceremonies. There will be no bands to play mournful dirges on the way to the old Princeton cemetery, no military escort, no eulogy by the officiating clergymen. The half mile of thoroughfare through which the cortege will pass from "Westland," the Cleveland home on Bayard Lane, to the cemetery will be policed by mounted troops and blue coated soldiers, but they will be there for police duty and as a measure of precaution in protecting the living President, rather than as an element of display in paying tribute to a departed Chief Executive.

It has been Mrs. Cleveland's wish to avoid anything of a military nature at the funeral and it was only when the necessity of guarding President Roosevelt was borne upon her by those in charge of the funeral arrangements that she consented to the presence of troops.

The final arrangements for the ceremony and the names of those selected to officiate were announced this afternoon. Four clergymen will officiate at the house and at the grave. They will read the burial service from the Presbyterian Book of Common Worship, but will offer no eulogy. This simple, but impressive service will be conducted by Dr. Henry Van-Dyke, of Princeton; Rev Dr. William R. Richards, pastor of the Brick Presbyterian church, of New York; Rev. Sylvester W. Beach pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Princeton, where the Cleveland family attend, and Rev. Maitland V. Bartlett, former pastor of the same church. There will be no honorary pall-bearers. Those who will bear Mr. Cleveland's body to its final resting place in the Cleveland plot will be Mayor George B. McClellan, Paul Morton, Commodore E. C. Benedict, Richard Watson Gilder, of New York; Professor John C. Hibben, Junius S. Morgan, a nephew of J. Pierpont Morgan; A. D. Russell, Professor Howar McLenahan and Bayard Stockton, of Princeton.

The services at the house, which will begin at 5 o'clock, will be brief, after which the cortege will be formed and proceed to the cemetery.

TRIBUTES OF RESPECT.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Washington, June 25.—To every naval station and every Government vessel in commission throughout the world, to all military posts and stations, to all United States diplomatic and consular officers in every quarter went forth instructions today for observance of the President's proclamation announcing former President Cleveland's death. There was an innovation at the State Department inaugurated to meet modern conditions. This was telegraphic notification instead of by mail to our representatives in foreign countries to display flags at half mast for thirty days. This instruction was telegraphed with a view to uniformity in the time of observance. Copies of the President's telegram also have been mailed to all our diplomatic and consular officers.

The orders telegraphed by the War and Navy Departments direct the half masting of the colors, the wearing of the badge of mourning until July 25 and the firing of salutes every half hour from sunrise to sunset tomorrow, the day of the funeral, at all posts, stations and on board ship.

IN NEED OF FUNDS.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Washington, June 25.—The Democratic Congressional Committee is confronting a hard proposition in the matter of money to carry on the campaign, and Representative Lloyd, its chairman, will go to New York early tomorrow for the purpose of breaking into some of the barrels of Democrats in whose loyalty to the party he has confidence. The fact is the commitee has begun its work two months ahead of schedule time this year, and, while it usually calls for money in September, it is said that its work is so far advanced that it must now have funds or call a halt in the sending out of its literature. It has made extensive preparations which it is ready to put into effect in keeping with the early campaign project. Mr. Lloyd today stated that he does not expect to have his campaign brought to a standstill and he believes the result of his visit to New York will be to allow him to go ahead with the execution of plans that have been made.

Death Was On His Heels.

Jesse P. Morris, of Skippers, Va., had a close call in the spring of 1906. He says: "An attack of pneumonia left me so weak and with such a fearful cough that my friends declared consumption had me, and death was on my heels. Then I was persuaded to try Dr. King's New Discovery. It helped me immediately, and after taking two and a half bottles I was a well man again. I found out that New Discovery is the best remedy for cough and lung disease in all the world." Sold under guarantee at R. R. Bellamy's drug store. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

HARVARD WINS VARSITY RACE

WALK-OVER FOR HARVARD

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New London, June 25.—Amid a deafening din of steam whistles and horns and amid the frenzied shouts of collegians, the Harvard 'varsity eight shot their boat over the finish line tonight, winning from the crippled and distanced Yale crew, that classic of American college acquatics, the Harvard-Yale boat race. But instead of a race, Harvard finished the last mile and a half alone while far behind Yale limped along with but seven men at the oars, with Griswold, the stroke—the man who had been relied upon to set the winning pace—bent forward, limp and faint from the terrific strain of the opening two miles. Up to this unexpected climax it had been a stirring struggle, worthy of the best traditions of the old antagonists, and with the fitting setting of a marine spectacle such as had seldom been equalled along a regatta course for brilliancy and magnitude. For the first time, too, the President of the United States was taking keen and active interest as a champion of the crimson colors and although compelled by circumstances to absent himself today, the spirit of his enthusiasm was voiced by the Roosevelt family who witnessed the contest from the deck of the Presidential yacht. Yale was more fortunate in having its distinguished champion, Secretary Taft, present in reality, the central figure of a group of collegians aboard one of the observation trains, who shouted encouragement to the Yale crew as they sped over the early reaches of the course, and then lapsed into glum dismay as Grisfold was seen to fall over helpless in the Yale boat. The race was rowed under the most favorable racing conditions, just as the sun was setting over the picturesque Thames with the water broken only by ripples, a cloudless sky and a light northwesterly breeze.

Through a maze of craft the racers threaded their way with a clear open course 200 feet wide, marked every half mile with red and blue standards. Every eye was riveted on the bronze forms in the shells, as they bent to the terrific strain of 26, then 30, then 35 strokes to the minute, driving their frail crafts through the water. Above the voices of the on-lookers could be heard the shrill voices of coxswains, megaphone to mouth, stimulating their men and marking time with "one, two, three, four." Yale had splashed at the start, and the Harvard men had been quick to take this advantage, pushing their boat slightly ahead. There they hung, nip and tuck, Harvard stamina against pluck, through the roaring avenues of nerve-racked, screeching thousands. Half a mile from the start both crews were almost side by side, Harvard being a few feet to the fore; one mile, Harvard still ahead with Yale holding on doggedly; two miles, Yale spurting and lessening the gap; two and a half miles, Harvard still in the lead, with open water between the boats and Yale fighting on like grim death.

Now came the decisive moment, with the final stretch almost in sight, and the breathless throngs straining to see if Harvard could keep up the pace, or would weaken at the close. Steadily on they came, when suddenly commotion was observed in the Yale boat as Griswold, the stroke, fell forward on the oar and ceased to row. Cass, Yale's coxswain had already been dashing water into his pale face. For nearly a minute—seemed ten—the Yale stroke sat motionless bent down as if lifeless. Then a great shout went up from the Yale cohorts as their crew was seen to pick up the stroke and rally for another effort. But they were now six length behind, hopelessly beaten. Another twenty strokes and Griswold was seen to collapse again and then the whole crew, disheartened at the fall of their leader, quit their work and sat dejected at their oars. Yale was beaten. It was no longer a race, and Harvard swung ahead alone, still keeping up the racing clip.

Griswold was helped from the Yale boat, and, lagging far behind the Harvard men, the seven remaining Yale men at last made their appearance at the finish—a half mile behind Harvard—receiving a generous ovation for their pluck under such disheartening conditions.

A BOOM FOR MR. CHANLER

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Denver, Colo., July 25.—Norman E. Mack, of Buffalo, arrived today bringing with him a boom for Lieutenant Governor Chanler, of Ne wYork, for the Vice Presidential nomination.

"Conceding the nomination for first place to Mr. Bryan," he said, "I think the nomination for the Vice Presidency should go to New York State. Mr. Chanler has demonstrated his popularity there and I am very sure his name would add strength to the ticket."

"Would he be acceptable to Mr. Bryan?" he was asked.

Mr. Mack replied: "Of course Mr. Bryan is not attempting 'o dictate the choice of a running mate, but I don't mind telling you that in Lincoln yesterday I discussed Mr. Chanler with him and am sure that the selection would not be displeasing."

Mr. Mack is a member of the committee on arrangements. Immediately after breakfast he took off his coat and went to work with his colleagues to prepare details for the convention. He predicts a large attendance from eastern cities.

Mr. Mack reiterated today the statement he made yesterday in Lincoln that it was his belief that no Government ownership plank or mention of Government ownership of railroads would be in the Democratic platform. "This is the impression I gained from a talk with Mr. Bryan while I was in Lincoln," added Mr. Mack. "I do not believe that the convention and Mr. Bryan are going to be at variance on the platform. I have a fairly good idea of what the majority of the convention will be satisfied with and I think I have a fairly good idea of what Mr. Bryan has in mind in that connection and it is my belief that there will be no considerable difference of opinion between the leaders of the convention and the Nebraskan."

HEAR BRYAN In Your Own Home

William Jennings Bryan, the silver-tongued orator of the Platte, has made ten Edison Records of the ten best extracts from his ten best speeches. They can be heard at our store. They can be bought for thirty-five cents each, and they can be heard thereafter in your own home. Nothing will furnish more novel entertainment to yourself and your friends this summer than Bryan's speeches on Edison Records made by Bryan himself.

We sell a genuine Edison Phonograph complete for $12.50 or $25.00 on terms of only $1.00 a week. Edison Records are only 35 cents each. They wear forever. New July Records now on sale.
